We have considered purchasing equipment to produce the closed captioning ourselves. Some pricing on some basic equipment needed has been enclosed. This basic equipment is for offline captioning, also known as post production captioning. We believe we need a captioning character generator or encoder. Due to the cost associated with purchasing this equipment, we determined we could not afford it.

such information must be provided.*

We have considered purchasing equipment to produce the closed captioning ourselves. The encoders typically have a ten-year warranty against defects in material & workmanship. Our church does not have the funds available to hire and train someone to operate this machine. A recent search online shows the price to hire an individual with a captioning degree can be quite expensive. Since captioning involves a great deal of speed and skill an individual can make upwards to $100,000 per year. We do have the funds available for that.

We are a church that is 501C3 non-profit and it operates on the tithes and offerings of the members. The church ministers on college campuses in the area, to the homeless of the area, to the growing Latino community and supports a local elementary school through a partnership. All of these things along with the regular operating expenses are handled with the giving of the members through tithes and offerings. We are committed to pay $350 per week for the television broadcast even with the church's annual budget taking a hit of approximately 15% over the past four years because we recognize the impact it is having in the central region of our state. We hear from people throughout the region that they watch the broadcast and enjoy it. We want our broadcast to continue and be accessible to every person. Providing closed captioning is simply more than our finances can bear. Closed captioning is an expense that we wish we could afford but our finances will not permit. If we used the least expensive quote submitted for closed captioning, our costs would go up by more than $5,200 per year. With that added expense, we would not be able to continue our broadcast on MyRDC 28.

Hi Cornell,

Thank you for working on this!

WRDC does not have the capability to close caption, in fact we outsource the closed captioning for our own programming.

We have attempted to get donations and partners over our almost nine years on air. We have only been able to raise a total of $200.00 and none of it was consistent. Even with attempts to promote products for sale, that has only produced about $150.00 in the same time frame. Nothing ever came in at the same time, but $25.00 or $50.00 here and there.
